Dr Andy Richards CBE is an entrepreneur specialising in healthcare and life sciences. He has a track record as a founder, director and active investor in more than 25 innovative healthcare and life science companies. Andy will discuss emerging trends in healthcare from his perspectives as an entrepreneur and investor. He will focus on the newly developing inter-disciplinary ecosystem within the healthcare sector, where information, data, healthcare and life sciences are coming together to create new and exciting opportunities.

The panel discussion draws together five experts to discuss Innovation and Entrepreneurship in Mental Health – Opportunities to Make a Difference. The discussion will focus on:

- Joining up the science – to understand potential causal links and identify opportunities to make a difference
- Innovation and entrepreneurship – generating ideas, selecting opportunities, commercialising innovations
- Implementation in practice – implications for the delivery of healthcare
